MacIntyre
Providing support...your way

Organisational Abuse

Organisational abuse means when you live in a home that you pay for care such as a residential home or supported living and the staff do things without asking, such as

Staff do not listen to you

Things are being decided about your life and you are not asked for your ideas

You are told to do things because it help the staff out such as going to bed at a certain time - all the time even when you do not want to

©MacIntyre 2026

Restrictions being put in place such as always having a locked door and you have to ask to go out

Your concerns or complaints not being listened to

This document was:

- Checked and signed by MacIntyre Advisors
- Made with photosymbols

©MacIntyre 2026