Privacy Notice for Parents/Carers
Date: May 2018
Our legal basis for using this data
We only collect and use pupils’ personal data when the law allows us to. Most commonly, we process it where:

- We need to comply with a legal obligation
- We need it to perform an official task in the public interest

Sometimes, we may also process pupils’ personal data in situations where:

- We have obtained consent to use it in a certain way
- We need to protect the individual’s vital interests (or someone else’s interests)

Where we have obtained consent to use pupils’ personal data, this consent can be withdrawn at any time. We will make this clear when we ask for consent, and explain how consent can be withdrawn.

Some of the reasons listed above for collecting and using pupils’ personal data overlap, and there may be several grounds which justify our use of this data.

Collecting this information
While the majority of information we collect about pupils is mandatory, there is some information that can be provided voluntarily.

Whenever we seek to collect information from you or your child, we make it clear whether providing it is mandatory or optional. If it is mandatory, we will explain the possible consequences of not complying.

How we store this data
We keep personal information about pupils whilst they are attending our schools. We may also keep it beyond their attendance at our schools if this is necessary in order to comply with our legal obligations.

Our MacIntyre School Retention Schedule sets out how long we keep information about pupils. You can view a copy of this on https://www.macintyrecharity.org/our-services/children-young-people/wingrave-school/ or request a copy from the school office.

Data Sharing
We do not share information about pupils with any third party without consent unless the law and our policies allow us to do so.

Where it is legally required, or necessary (and it complies with data protection law) we may share personal information about pupils with third parties including but not limited to the following:

- The placing local authority – to meet our legal obligations to share certain information with it, such as safeguarding concerns and exclusions
- The Department for Education and Education Funding Agency – to meet statutory requirements of providing pupil data that underpins school funding, educational attainment policy and monitoring.
- The pupil’s family and representatives
- Educators and examining bodies
- Ofsted - our regulator
- Suppliers and service providers – to enable them to provide the service we have contracted them for.
- Our auditors
- Police forces, courts, tribunals
National Pupil Database
We are required to provide information about pupils to the Department for Education as part of statutory data collections such as the school census.

Some of this information is then stored in the National Pupil Database (NPD), which is owned and managed by the Department and provides evidence on school performance to inform research.

The database is held electronically so it can easily be turned into statistics. The information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and exam boards.

The Department for Education may share information from the NPD with other organisations which promote children’s education or wellbeing in England. Such organisations must agree to strict terms and conditions about how they will use the data.

For more information, see the Department’s webpage on how it collects and shares research data. You can also contact the Department for Education with any further questions about the NPD.

Youth support services
Once our pupils reach the age of 13, we are legally required to pass on certain information about them to the Local Authority placing the student with us, as it has legal responsibilities regarding the education or training of 13-19 year-olds.

This information enables it to provide youth support services, post-16 education and training services, and suitable adult placement.

Parents/carers, or pupils once aged 16 or over, can contact our data protection lead to request that we only pass on the individual’s name, address and date of birth.

Transferring data internationally
Where we transfer personal data to a country or territory outside the European Economic Area, we will do so in accordance with data protection law.

Parents and pupils’ rights regarding personal data
Individuals have a right to make a ‘subject access request’ to gain access to personal information that the school holds about them.

Parents/carers can make a request with respect to their child’s data where the child is not considered mature enough to understand their rights over their own data (usually under the age of 12), or where the child has provided consent.

Parents also have the right to make a subject access request with respect to any personal data the school holds about them.

If you make a subject access request, and if we do hold information about you or your child, we will:

- Give you a description of it
- Tell you why we are holding and processing it, and how long we will keep it for
- Explain where we got it from, if not from you or your child
- Tell you who it has been, or will be, shared with
- Let you know whether any automated decision-making is being applied to the data, and any consequences of this
- Give you a copy of the information in an intelligible form
  - Safeguarding allegations and concerns may not be available to parents or guardians.

Individuals also have the right for their personal information to be transmitted electronically to another organisation in certain circumstances.

If you would like to make a request please contact our data protection lead.
Please note that within the school, parents / carers do not have a legal right to access their child's education record however if you would like to request access, please contact Claire Toombs Finance Director.
