Identity theft

How to keep your identity safe.

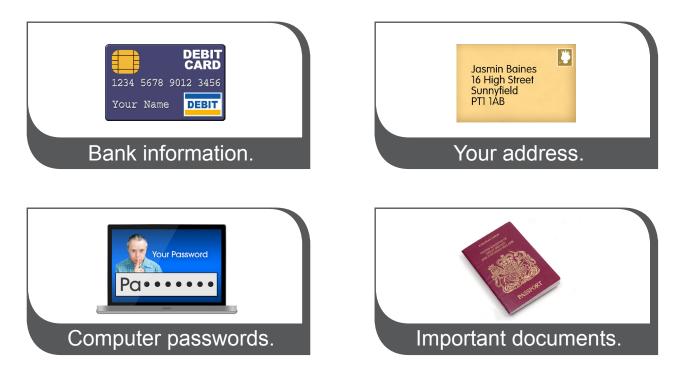

Easy Read Factsheet

Thieves can use your information to buy things and borrow money.

It is important to keep your identity safe.

Examples of things you need to keep private and safe:

Keep important information locked away.

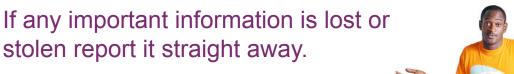

This includes information like:

If things are stolen always tell the Police.

Tell your bank if your bank card or chequebook is lost or stolen.

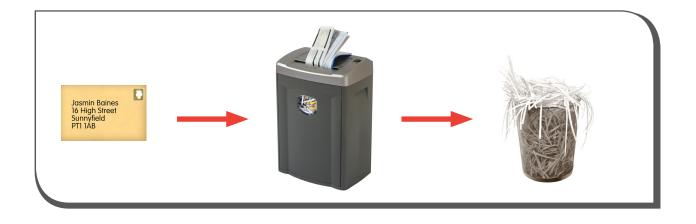

If documents are lost or stolen report this to the organisation you get them from.

Check your bank statements very carefully.

Tell your bank straight away if payments have been made you didn't expect.

Shred any letters or information that has your address on before you throw it away.

What to do if you move home.

Tell your bank and other people who send you letters your new address.

Ask Royal Mail to re-direct your letters to your new address for at least a year. This does cost money. Keep your computer passwords and PIN numbers for cards private.
