

- At MacIntyre, we need to listen to everyone from the start

- We want staff to understand families better

- We want people to be involved in training

- We want people to be involved in everything that happens at MacIntyre

- We want staff to support families better

- At MacIntyre, we want everyone to do co-production

- We want services to create their own plans for co-production

- We want to learn from local networks

- We want to help services do co-production better
